Headteacher:
Mr A Grant MAEd, BSc, PGCE

My name is Andrew Hill and I am the network manager at St Edmund Campion High School in Erdington Birmingham.

One of the teachers at the school had saved their documents to an external hard disc drive but once he tried to access it at school it had become corrupted. The files were important as they were going to be used as part of the curriculum. We tried to recover the files ourselves but unfortunately it wasn't possible.

As a last resort we sent the hard drive to Secure Data Recovery to be inspected. Mark Cooney got back to us quickly informing us that the hard drive was physically damaged inside but they would be able to recover the files. If they were unable to retrieve the files then there would be no cost. A few days later and we were sent a preview of the files recovered so we could check we were happy. We were and proceeded with the work.

The process is expensive but worth it to know your files are in safe hands. I would recommend Secure Data Recovery to others with lost or corrupted data.
